

Chinese Troops March Upon Shantung Today To Save Lunghai Road

Decisive Battle for Control of China's East-West Lifeline Appears Imminent — Japanese Near Sachow.

TOKYO PARLEY

Imperial Conference Summoned — British Cabinet Meets to Discuss Threats.

Shanghai, Jan. 10 (AP)—Chinese reinforcements pushed into southern Shantung Province today to meet advancing Japanese troops threatening the Lunghai railroad, China's East-West lifeline.

A decisive battle for control of the route appeared imminent. Japanese forces were approaching Sachow, important Lunghai junction point in northern Kiangsu Province, from both the north and the south.

In addition, Chinese said, Japanese transports had arrived at Sachow, eastern terminus of the line some 125 miles northwest of Sachow, to land bluejackets for a drive inland.

Japanese announced unexpected occupation of Tsingtao, Shanghai Province seaport, from which Chinese forces had evacuated by December 31. The announcement said, however, that Japanese bluejackets were "continuing mopping up operations."

Earlier, Japanese naval planes flew over Tsingtao, dropping leaflets advising the populace to submit to Japanese administration and policing.

Hand Grenade Thrown

In Shanghai, a hand grenade was thrown at a group of Italian troops on the international settlement boundary in a continuation of Chinese terrorist activity against tightening Japanese control. No one was injured.

Two Japanese were promoted to high offices in the postal service, further increasing Japanese influence. K. Kanazashi, former deputy commissioner, was named assistant commissioner and Inspector Y. Fukui became chief inspector.

London dispatches said Great Britain was determined to resist Japanese demands for virtual control of Shanghai and was prepared to discuss with France and the United States concerted measures to safeguard interests of western nations.

The Japanese command maintained strict silence on developments in the war area, saying there was "no information."

Chinese, who told of the massing of troops to resist the Japanese threat to sever the Lunghai, declared no major engagements were fought. Freezing temperatures and strong winds hampered troop movements.

Imperial Conference

Tokyo, Jan. 10 (AP)—An imperial conference was summoned today to meet in the presence of Emperor Hirohito tomorrow to decide formally Japan's unshakable policy towards China.

Only twice before has such a conference been held—in 1894 at the time of the Chinese-Japanese war and, 10 years before, to meet the Russian-Japanese crisis.

The conference was ordered after Premier Prince Fumimaro Kono placed before the emperor the government's decision on future policy in China. Details of the plan were kept secret.

Chiefs and vice-chiefs of the army and navy general staffs, the premier, and the foreign, army, navy, home and finance ministers will attend the session.

Japanese press reports have been that the cabinet, in two days of conferences with the imperial headquarters, was drafting a program to "destroy the anti-Japanese administration in China."

The foreign office spokesman declared Japan was prepared either for peace or prolonged hostilities, and added that peace was impossible so long as China's generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek maintained his anti-Japanese attitude.

Cabinet Meets

London, Jan. 10 (AP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain called a group of his cabinet colleagues into conference today on Japan's increasing threat to British interests in Shanghai.

He and several other ministers planned to hear former British ambassador to China, Sir Hugh Montgomery Knatchbull-Hugessen, review the entire situation in the Far East.

Sir Hugh returned to London today to complete his recovery from wounds inflicted by Japanese machine-gun bullets last August.

A high government source said Chamberlain had resolved "not to stand for Japanese use of military superiority in the present emergency to force concessions in Shanghai."

New York, Jan. 10 (AP)—Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver of Cleveland has been elected national chairman for 1938 of the United Palestine appeal. He succeeds Dr. Stephen S. Wise, New York rabbi.

Holy Name Speakers Sunday

Seated at the speakers' table in St. Mary's School Hall Sunday morning at the annual communion and breakfast of the Holy Name Society were, from left to right: The Rev. William H. Kennedy, spiritual director of the society; Dr. Leo Palmer, superintendent of Walkkill Medium Security Prison, guest speaker; the Very Rev. Monsignor John J. Stanley, pastor of St. Mary's Church; Joseph Murphy, Grand Knight of Kingston Council, 275, Knights of Columbus, who was toastmaster; Gustave Kogel, president of the Holy Name and Leo Lynch, standing, one of the committee on arrangements.

New Jersey Autos Get Thorough Test In Safety Program

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 10 (AP)—An army of specially-trained state inspectors climbed over and under thousands of New Jersey autos today as the motor vehicle department started compulsory tests to drive unsafe cars from the highways.

All "rattle-traps" were decried, but a relic of pre-war days that has been kept in shape stood a better chance than a sleek 1935 De Luxe with cock-eyed headlights or lazy brakes.

Thirty-day jail terms and $200 fines for recalcitrants were written into the law which went into practical effect today with the opening of 28 inspection stations.

The first batch of hundreds was notified to submit to inspection within seven days of a stipulated date—at a charge of 50 cents each for semi-annual tests.

Thousands have submitted to pre-view unofficial tests, which Motor Vehicle Commissioner Arthur W. Magee said were gratifying.

Some have complained, largely on the ground the new law would "penalize" the poor motorist.

The New Jersey motorist, starting today, drives his car onto a platform which checks the wheel alignment and steering wheel play, as seven inspectors hop to a two-minute job. Up go the front ends of New Jersey's million-odd cars under jacks and the springs, electric wiring and exhausts are tested. Other inspectors look over the mirrors, glass, windshield wipers, horns and lights. Photo-electric cells show headlight beam intensity and focus.

Finally, an inspector cranks the car at five miles per hour on a brake-testing machine.

Those who pass these and other mechanical tests get windshield stickers certifying their cars have been O. K.'d.

Those who don't must keep off the road until they fix up their cars—or else.

PRINCE PAUL AND BRIDE ON HONEYMOON TODAY

Athens, Greece, Jan. 10 (AP)—Prince Paul, heir-presumptive to the Greek throne, and his bride, the Princess Frederika Luise of Hanover, were honeymooning today at a private residence near Athens.

They were married at the Greek Orthodox Church yesterday by the archbishop of Athens, in a ceremony at which representatives of 60 royal and noble houses of Europe were guests.

A second ceremony was performed by a German Evangelical pastor at the Royal Palace.

The bride, 20, is a granddaughter of former Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany. Prince Paul, 35, is the only brother of Greece's childless King George II. By the marriage the German princess became Princess Margarita of Greece.

Coughlin Broadcasts

Detroit, Jan. 10 (AP)—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin returned to radio broadcasting yesterday with a plea to finance, industry and labor for cooperation. Father Coughlin urged his listeners to start the new year by "banning hate and opposing unwise opposition." He outlined a four-point program for national health and prosperity: "We should pledge ourselves singly and unitedly to cease sniping at our Democratic form of government."

Publishers at Syracuse

Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 11 (AP)—Members of the New York State Publishers Association gathered here today for opening sessions of a two days discussion of newspaper problems. Among subjects to be studied were the relation of Social Security and Unemployment Insurance to carrier boys, labor; how to save on newsprint; the 1938 legislative programs in Washington and Albany and the five cent newspaper.

Situation in Hand

Denver, Jan. 10 (AP)—Sidney Goldstein, 24-year-old marine, who "hitchhiked" here from Washington in the airplane of Secretary of War Woodring, didn't report at San Pedro, Calif., last night when his furlough expired, but he had the situation well in hand.

Goldstein "reported for duty" to Capt. C. E. Shepard, marine recruiting officer here. Capt. Shepard told him he would not get into trouble, advanced him train fare and sent him on his way.

Goldstein told Capt. Shepard he arranged to ride in service planes from Washington to the coast but "at the last minute a colonel wanted a ride, so they kicked me off."

"Then the secretary picked me up," he said, "Woodring came here to make a Jackson Day address."

Secretary on Reward

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 10 (AP)—Secretary right up to the last minute was imposed by Governor Harold G. Hoffman as he prepared to distribute late today the $25,000 reward voted by the New Jersey legislature for assistance in the arrest and conviction of those guilty of the kidnapping murder of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr.

House Defeats the War Referendum Amendment Today by Vote of 209 to 188

Students to Take Anti-Nazi May Be Over Government Of City Tuesday

The students in the civics class of the Kingston High School will take over the city government on Tuesday. At a recent meeting of the class the students elected one of their members to be mayor and also elected other city officials, including a board of aldermen.

This evening at 7:30 o'clock the newly elected "city officials" will meet in the common council chambers on the third floor of the city hall to swear in and take over the reins of government. It is expected that the newly elected mayor will deliver his annual message and that the council will organize.

A year or so ago the civics class carried out a similar plan which proved so successful that it was decided to again let the students run the city government for one day this year. At first it was planned to set aside a day in December but with the mayor and the other city officials and departments busy on the city budget no time was found to devote to the students.

Anti-Nazi May Be Deported Soon

Paul List, 37-year-old German with an American wife and child in Rochester, N. Y., is shown arriving in New York from Ellis Island, free under $1,000 bail. He stowed away on the Normandie after having been refused a visa to visit his family and now faces deportation. A member of the loyalist forces in Spain and an anti-Nazi, List said he feared death in Germany.

President Roosevelt Warned That It Would 'Cripple Any President' In His Conduct Of Our Foreign Relations.

GRAVE QUESTION

Speaker Bankhead Declares It's the Gravest Question In 20 Years.

Washington, Jan. 10 (AP)—The House shelved the proposed war referendum amendment to the Constitution today, voting against floor consideration of the proposal.

Speaker Bankhead announced the vote against the referendum was 209 to 188.

The motion went down to defeat shortly after the House had heard Speaker Bankhead read a letter from President Roosevelt condemning the amendment offered by Representative Ludlow (D., Ind.).

His resolution would have authorized a constitutional amendment, which three-fourths of the states would have to approve, calling for approval by the people in a national election before the United States could declare war.

President Appeals

President Roosevelt and House leaders appealed, before the vote, for defeat of the proposal.

The President warned that it would "cripple any president" in his conduct of our foreign relations.

It also would encourage other nations, the President said in a letter to Speaker Bankhead which was read to the House, "to believe that they could violate American rights with impunity."

Written in response to a request from the speaker for an expression of the President's views, the letter was read shortly before House members were scheduled to vote on a motion to call up a war referendum amendment for consideration.

The Text

The text follows:
"January 6, 1938.
"My Dear Mr. Speaker:
"In response to your request for an expression of my views respecting the proposed resolution calling for a referendum vote as a prerequisite for a declaration of war, I must frankly state that I consider that the proposed amendment would be impracticable in its application and incompatible with our representative form of government."

Our government in conducted by the people through representatives of their own choosing. It was with singular unanimity that the founders of the republic agreed upon such free and representative form of government as the only practical means of government by the people.

"Such an amendment to the constitution as that proposed would cripple any President in his conduct of our foreign relations, and it would encourage other nations to believe that they could violate American rights with impunity."

"I fully realize that the sponsors of this proposal sincerely believe that it would be helpful in keeping the United States out of war. I am convinced it would have the opposite effect."

"Yours very sincerely
"(Signed) Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Bankhead Speaks

Bankhead left the rostrum to read the letter and to speak himself against the referendum. It was one of the rare instances he had taken the floor to discuss pending legislation.

Asserting he left his place as an impartial presiding officer, with the deepest regret, to speak against the legislation, the speaker said:

"I measure my words, my friends, when I say that in my opinion this is the gravest question that has been submitted to the congress since I became a member of the house 29 years ago."

He then described the referendum as a "radical and revolutionary attack on the fundamental basis of principle of representative democracy."

"I am unwilling," he continued, "that my colleagues abandon the judgment of the framers of our constitution and say the people no longer are willing to trust their chosen representatives—or the views of the Chief Executive of the United States, who loves peace as much as any man in the world."

Purchases Rights

Paris, Jan. 10 (AP)—The French government has purchased manufacturing rights to an American airplane engine in an effort to obtain good motors for its planes, the air ministry disclosed today. The name of the American company, the amount paid for manufacturing rights and the type of motor were not revealed.

Lawmakers Await Lehman's Budget, Session Tonight

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 10 (AP)—New York's Legislature temporarily shelved today consideration of Governor Lehman's business-reviving proposals to receive tonight his views on the 1938-39 executive budget.

Returning to hear the governor's message at the first night session of the 131st Legislature, well-informed observers predicted it would recommend a slight reduction in the present record $490,000,000 budget.

Others saw in it a possible source of controversy that may bar expected since the adjournment by April 1. It was not expected, however, to delay passage of the governor's recession-combating program.

Democratic cloutiers planned to move the administration's proposals to aid business conditions, already endorsed in part by Republican leaders, for consideration directly after receipt of the budget message.

The message will outline the Democratic governor's views on unemployment relief, the future of emergency taxation, and other subjects likely to be major legislative items.

Birth Papers Bring Reunion for Agnews

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 10 (AP)—With immigration barriers finally burled, the Millerton Agnews were a reunited family today after being separated a year by the breadth of Lake Ontario.

The mother, Mrs. Antoinette Agnew and her four-year-old daughter joined their husband and father at his little suburban home last night after immigration authorities officially declared Agnew no longer "a man without a country" but an American citizen.

Agnew came to Rochester from Toronto in August, 1936, leaving his wife and child behind him in the Canadian city. He became employed here but when he tried to bring his wife, a German native naturalized as a British subject, he was told he must produce proof of his American citizenship. An adopted son, he knew only the name of his parents but knew nothing of his birthplace.

A year-long search of records of town clerks in Monroe county, where he was certain he was born, finally revealed the "lost" certificate in the town of Avon.

450 Holy Name Men Attend Annual Mass, Breakfast on Sunday

Dr. Leo Palmer of Walkkill Prison Talks on Crime and Means of Lessening It

Approximately 450 members of St. Mary's Holy Name Society attended their annual communion and breakfast Sunday morning.

Dr. Leo Palmer, superintendent of Walkkill Medium Security Prison, discussed crime and the means of lessening it.

In his talk, the guest speaker urged the Holy Name to lend its aid for the abolition of crime.

"By your presence and example," he told the men, "you can do a lot, and help this tremendous job to stifle crime."

Credits Religion

Citing the old adage of an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, Dr. Palmer credited religion as the one big medium for the prevention of crime.

"Don't let the youngsters grow up to be religious morons; see that they get the advantage of this influential factor in the tender years when they are moulding character."

Other speakers at the breakfast were the Rev. James Scallion, chaplain at Walkkill prison; the Very Rev. Monsignor John J. Stanley, the Rev. Fathers William H. Kennedy, spiritual director of the Holy Name, and Benjamin C. Roth; Gustave Kogel, president of the society for three years, and Joseph Murphy, grand knight of Kingston Council, 275, Knights of Columbus, who was toastmaster.

At 8 o'clock Mass, celebrated by Monsignor Stanley, the Holy Name men received Holy Communion, and recited the Holy Name pledge to refrain from the use of profane language and to revere the name of Jesus.

After the Mass, the society marched in a body to the parish school hall.

Breakfast was served to more than 300, the committee on arrangements handling the task with commendable dispatch. During the meal music was furnished by Doc Fisher's Home Town Boys; Joseph Abdullah, Albert Abdullah, Vincent Hoben, Walter

Telephone Co. Employees Honor C. W. Phelan

Over 150 employees of the New York Telephone Company gathered at Schoonmaker's Hotel on the Saugerties Road Friday evening to honor C. W. Phelan, former district superintendent of the southern area, who was appointed acting division construction superintendent effective January 1, with headquarters at Albany. Fellow employees came from Albany, Ellenville, Monticello, Woodstock, Fleischmanns, Saugerties, Catskill, Newburgh and Poughkeepsie to say goodbye to Mr. Phelan and wish him success in his new position.

Arnold Horning, former plant chief of Kingston, has been appointed district plant superintendent of the southern area, with headquarters at Kingston. Mr. Horning will have under his supervision a large territory, comprising Dutchess, Greene, Sullivan and Ulster counties. He brings to his new position a wealth of experience in the plant department of the telephone business. Before coming to Kingston he was general plant manager for the Sullivan Telephone Company at Monticello.

J. F. Kelly has been appointed plant chief at Kingston, succeeding Mr. Horning. Mr. Kelly comes here from Glasco Falls.

Opposing Spaniards Still Battle for Teruel

Headed by Franco-Spanish, Frontiers, Jan. 10, (AP)—Fresh insurgent victories indicated today the battle for possession of Teruel was far from over, despite the government's success in crushing all resistance within the captured provincial capital.

The capture of a place called La Corca, plus further gains by General Francisco Franco's troops in the Villastar sector southwest of Teruel, threatened to cut the government's communications.

Insurgent sources reported steady progress on the two lines had enabled them to form an arc around Teruel while the government was concentrating on subjugating the insurgent garrison trapped within the city when government troops took it in a surprise attack more than two weeks ago.

The surrender of this insurgent garrison and civilian supporters—numbering about 6,000—was completed Saturday night, according to the government.

Damages Sought For False Arrest

Supreme Court reconvened at 10 o'clock this morning with Judge Schirck presiding. Following the call of the calendar a jury was drawn and trial started in the action brought by Walter Knobel, Jr., against Frank Newmann. Plaintiff seeks damages for false arrest and malicious prosecution, in the amount of $5,000 and also asks damages of $2,000 for libel and costs.

Plaintiff is represented by Walter J. Miller, Francis A. Castellano, Jr., appearing for Newmann. Knobel, who is now 22, was arrested by Corporal Baker and Trooper Klein, on a warrant charging him with having cut standing timber, the action complained of having taken place on October 19, 1934. He was taken before Justice J. C. Barnes at New Fair, and after a hearing was discharged.

On the stand this morning, Knobel said that a couple of days before October 19, he had gone on the land of the Schryver Lumber Co., off of the New Paltz-Rosendale road and had started to chop down a dead hickory tree, which was about three feet in diameter. He started about 9 o'clock, worked for an hour or so and then he and his mother sat down to eat sandwiches and coffee which the latter had brought. While they were eating, he claimed, Newmann shot twice with a rifle, the bullets apparently striking nearby. The two left the woods, but about 8 o'clock on the evening of October 19, Knobel and Albert Kniflin returned and started sawing down the tree with a cross-cut saw. Plaintiff claims that Newmann again fired the rifle on that occasion. His arrest followed the next day.

Plaintiff testified that some time before these occurrences he had visited the offices of the Schryver Lumber Co. in Kingston and had been given permission to take dead wood from the property in question. He denied that he had ever cut down live trees and said that he had never cut down a large tree before.

At the opening of court this morning the following day calendar was established, Nos. 27, 67, 73, 85, 111, 118, 158, 166, 115, 179, 167, 69-70, 55-56, 168, 177.

Churches, Family Benefit in Will of Austin Newcombe

The Presbyterian Church of the village of Windham, Greene county, and the First Reformed church of Kingston are each beneficiaries in the amount of $1,000, under the will of the late Austin R. Newcombe, who died in Miami, Fla., December 26.

The widow, Lucile P. Newcombe, is executrix under the will, which was executed June 11, 1931.

To the Windham Church is also given $500 in trust, income for care of burial plot of testator's father, George A. Newcombe, grandfather, Austin Newcombe and plot of David Davis, nearby, located in the Windham Cemetery. To the Jefferson Rural Cemetery Association, Catskill, is given $1,000 in trust, income for care of testator's family burial plot. Any surplus income from these funds to be used for general cemetery purposes.

It is stated that the wife, Lucile P. Newcombe, had previously acquired the farm and house, with contents, at Manor Lake, on which they resided.

To the wife and sons, Amos R. and Lloyd A. Newcombe, is given $20,000 with the request that the income and as much of the principal as may be necessary be applied to augmenting the sum needed for support and maintenance of testator's sister, Marie W. Newcombe.

Dividends, interest, revenue and income from the remainder of the estate is given to the wife, Lucile P. Newcombe, for life. The principal of such remainder is also given to the wife, in trust, to manage, such principal at her death to go to the two sons, Amos R. and Lloyd A. Newcombe.

For purposes of probate before Surrogate George P. Kaufman today, the value of the estate is given at over $100,000 personal, real estate nominal.

Find Mrs. Wolven Dead at Her Home

Mrs. Margaret Wolven of West Hurley, aged 71, was found dead in bed at her home there, Saturday night, by Deputy Sheriffs Vreedenburg and McCullough, who removed the glass from the front door in order to gain entrance to the house. Dr. George P. Bassow of Woodstock was called and Coroner Howard B. Humiston of Kerhonkson was notified. It was evident that Mrs. Wolven had died from a heart attack while sleeping.

The sheriff's office was called to investigate when Mrs. Wolven's niece, Miss Edna Wolven, had gone to the house and could not gain entrance, nor any response to her calls.

President, Mrs. Frank Brown; vice-president, Mrs. Saul Smith; secretary, Mrs. William Wood; treasurer, Mrs. Rufus Kelder.

Chairmen were appointed for the year and work planned. Mrs. Powley, and her workers start the New Year's work with a chowder sale at the church hall, next Friday, January 14. Mrs. Brown read a poem in memory of the late Mrs. Shufeldt, who had been a faithful, cheerful worker in the church and Aid for more than a half century of years. After the business was over a social time was held. Mrs. Kelder was presented with a beautiful bouquet of roses for faithful work as treasurer of the society for 35 years. The ladies are looking forward to a happy and prosperous year in their work.

PINK FAVORS MEASURE TO USE INSURANCE FUNDS

New York Jan. 10 (AP)—Legislation permitting life insurance companies to invest their funds "for a limited time and in limited amounts" in the construction of low-rent housing was urged today by State Insurance Superintendent Louis H. Pink.

In his annual report to the legislature, Pink asked cooperation with Governor Herbert H. Lehman's program for low-rent housing. He pointed out that the Metropolitan Life Insurance Com-

WHEN YOU FIGHT OFF COLDS!

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." And what could be an easier, pleasanter way of helping to guard against colds than fresh, creamy milk? It has an alkaline reaction, and its wealth of Vitamin A...the anti-infective vitamin...prepares your system for months to come to better meet the threat of colds.

So if you want to cut down this winter's sneezes and sniffles, start this health habit now. Simply add a glass or so of milk to your daily menu.

"What's burning?" inquired the city editor.

"My house," shouted the reporter proudly.

Price of a Smile.

Wichita, Kas.—For a child's smile—$30,000.

That's what Mrs. E. M. Shafer asked in a damage suit against C. G. Hilligoss. She charged her 3-year-old daughter, Charlotte, "never will be able to smile again" because nerves in her face were severed in an accident involving Hilligoss' car.

Topsy-Turvy Zoo.

Chicago—Five inches of snow covered the ground and the weather was cold but at the Brookfield Zoo Director Edwin Bean reported the walrus started to break the ice in their pool (and coaxed with crackers) and Russian tigers, who ordinarily relish zero weather, refused to leave their lairs. The ostriches from the tropics, however, paddled in the snow, Bean said.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JAN. 10, 1938

VERY SIMPLE.

It is always reassuring to hear from Henry Ford, and his latest statement on the present economy, or whatever it is, seems no
 exception. He says:

"There is nothing to prevent our going ahead. Almost every reason for the temporary stoppage can be discounted."

One thing we must learn is that we were on the right track a few years ago, and left it. When we made plenty of things that people use to live, we were able to make them at low prices, and people were able to buy them, and this made work for more men."

There is no way of changing
 that cycle, and no way of improving upon it. Things and using and making things better and
 easier to get is all there is to it.
 And the sooner we get back to
 that, the better it will be. There is no use in waiting for some one else to start. This thing will get started, as it always has, by individual initiative."

It sounds fine. And as you read it, it seems as if it must be true. We want to believe it, and stop fussing and lawmaking and everything, and just go ahead the way we were doing in the recent twenties. We were "doing good" then! Yet an uneasy feeling comes over us. We seem to remember that something happened to us when we were bowling along on that old cycle. All at once without warning we took a terrible header. In 1929,
 wasn't it?

And we haven't got ourselves picked up yet. Mr. Ford seems to have recovered all right, but
 of us, maybe 30 or 40 millions, haven't. And we find ourselves wondering, in spite of Henry's assurance, if that old economic cycle can't be changed or improved, and whether individual initiative cures everything.

PROSPEROUS NEVADA

While other states are having their ups and downs—mostly downs lately—the Sage Brush
 State seems to be sitting on top of the world. You can take it from the civic leaders of Reno that there's one solvent state. Information from the Reno boosters
 is that Nevada owes nobody a dollar, and is a heavy creditor of other states, and doesn't need
 any state income tax, sales tax,
 tobacco tax, chain store tax, inheritance tax or any other such innovations as are breaking citizens'
 backs elsewhere.

"Nevada is the only sane state in the Union," boasts a broker
 from Denver, who says he made money in Colorado and doesn't intend to turn it over to "a revenue-mad bunch of officeholders to throw around." He is moving to Nevada. Likewise a retired chain store executive from California,
 who says: "I sold all my houses in Los Angeles. I don't want to own anything down there. Here
 my estate will be safeguarded, so I can give it to my children and grandchildren." And so it goes.
 There is plenty of room for millionaires, too, with less than one person per square mile.

It does seem as if Florida will have to look to her laurels, in the matter of collecting millionaire
 residents. Both states, though,
 still suffer one serious handicap.
 Their wealthy recruits can't get away from Uncle Sam.

NEW WAR ON POLIO

This year finds the fight on infantile paralysis carried forward
 by a new foundation to which all
 the funds raised by the "birthday balls" will go. Formerly such funds were divided between the Warm Springs Foundation and the local committees, the latter
 getting 70 per cent of the total.

What will the new foundation
 do? Paul De Kruff, in a long article on the subject, says first
 that it will carry on the fight against infantile paralysis in a way unique in American medical history. Its work will be national and planned, not scattered and helter-skelter. It will have adequate means for research. Doctors will be taught diagnosis of the disease, before paralysis sets

 in, a factor which greatly facilitates treatment and prevention of deformity. Communities that lack orthopedic facilities will be helped with financial grants from the foundation.

There will be a research-planning board of top-ranking scientists whose purpose is to assist financially and otherwise, researchers all over the country.
 Public health authorities and private physicians will share new information as fast as it is discovered. Here is a thrilling, concerted national attack on a great and hitherto baffling human scourge. It is the sort of war civilized people can engage in with self-respect.

GOOD WILL BELOW.

Premier Joseph Lyons of Australia expresses his pleasure because the United States has decided to send four "good will"
 cruisers to Sydney this month.
 They go to join in a commemoration of the 150th anniversary of the founding of the Australian Commonwealth. They will be the big features of the naval pageant
 on January 26.

Bon voyage to the big iron boats! We're glad to join in Australia's party. We always did like the Australians, along with the New Zealanders and other neighbors "down under" even since we met up with them at Gallipoli and thereabouts on a certain occasion, and found what good fellows they were. Count on Anzacs and Yanks to put together anywhere and anyhow.

And if the various branches
 of the English-speaking race
 seem to be fraternizing more than usual, since this recent Asiatic business started, well, as the French say, shame to any guy
 that gets suspicious.

SORE THROAT—LARYNGITIS

After, or during, a cold in the head the voice is often affected
 owing to the fact that the "cold"
 has not only inflamed the lining
 of the nose and throat but has extended downwards to the vocal cords causing the hoarseness or a high pitched squeaky voice.

As the patient feels pretty well
 he is apt to think little or nothing
 of the hoarseness or squeakiness
 and so has to put some extra effort into his speech or talking as he goes about his daily work. And it is this extra effort to talk with inflamed vocal cords that rough-
 ens up these vocal cords and prolong the symptoms, which may mean considerable loss of time and money.

As mentioned before, many, including myself, have found that if the voice gets husky or squeaky
 from overuse or from a cold the biggest part of the treatment is to stop using the voice entirely, if possible, or if the voice must be used, to whisper or else allow the voice to come from the mouth
 without any expression whatever.

It is interesting therefore to have such high throat authorities
 as Dr. Chevalier Jackson and Dr.
 Chevalier L. Jackson in their book
 "The Larynx and Its Diseases,"

"Silence is the first point in the treatment of laryngitis. The patient should write out questions and answers. Inhaling steam from boiling water containing a few drops of a saturated solution of camphor and menthol will relieve soreness. Freshly ground horseradish, taken liberally on buttered bread will clear out the sinuses (and thus prevent re-infection of the larynx) better than any known substance taken by mouth."

I have spoken before of the use of Friar's balsam (tincture of benzoic compound) for relieving the soreness of the throat and vocal cords. A teaspoonful is put in the bottom of a jug or other vessel,
 and a quart of boiling water poured over it. The patient puts a large towel over his head and the jug and inhales the steam.

Remember, then, that silence—
 not using the voice at all—is the first and main point in the treatment of laryngitis. Drs. Chevalier state that the eating daily of four tomatoes, one lime or lemon,
 and a head of lettuce will prevent laryngitis.

DARE TO DREAM

BY ALICE MARIE DOUGLASS

The Characters
 Nelda, delivering her lettuce-
 crop during a strike, is surrounded by a mob of violent and dangerous picketers.
 Bill, a rather lettuce farmer, attempts to rescue Nelda, without success.
 Reck, a wealthy playboy, and Nelda's fiance, considers Nelda's farming a whim.
 Mrs. Reckless, Reck's haughty
 mother, has strangely consented
 to her son's engagement.
 Jack, Nelda's younger brother,
 is in the hospital with injuries
 inflicted by picketers.

Chapter 30

More Clouds Ahead

THE battle seemed to take on new impetus. The strikers were determined to keep the officers,
 Bill and Nelda prisoners. Other officers tried to come to their rescue. There were many savage hand-to-hand fights. Cameramen darted here and there, taking shots of the fray at various angles. A rock hit Nelda on the neck, and almost immediately a welt raised.

Bill tried again and again to get her out of it, but he was helpless.
 They were hemmed in by a with-
 ing mass of maddened humanity,
 composed of both strikers and papickers. Each of the fighters tried to outshout the other, as if the loudness of their voices would win
 the battle.

"And this," Nelda whispered to Bill, "is civilization."
 "We're more like a lot of frenzied animals," he panted.

The struggling mass swarmed over her truck. Missiles flew against it. All the glass was shattered. The fenders were scuffed and dented.

Then a new group of deputies
 arrived and started hurling gas bombs. Nelda found herself in the center of a gasping, shouting, cursing mob, groping about in acrid fumes. Grenades kept falling about them. The cloud of tear gas mingled with the fumes of a nauseating chemical that swirled in the breeze and spread rapidly.

There was no place for heroics. Eyes streaming, stomachs retching, the strikers made a disorderly retreat.
 A handful of them held their ground, among them Liz, the fat woman. She was burned on the arm by the gas and stood howling
 with pain, coughing, choking, sneezing, yet hurling stones. She was so blinded with tears that some of her missiles hit her own friends.

Bill swept Nelda up into his arms and ran through the cloud of gas to the parking shed. When he put her down she stood looking at each other, tears running down
 their cheeks. They grinned weakly.

"Well, kid," he began and stopped because of a violent sneezing spell—"this all started over a girl!"—sneeze—"and some lettuce!"

"I feel like," she sneezed—"I've been to war."
 "Going to quit?"

"I wouldn't quit," what?"
 "Hauling lettuce," sneeze—"letuce?"
 "I should say not! Gonna get a gas mask!"

"You're great, kid!" There was a wonderful warmth in Bill's voice as he spoke.

They talked in sneezing, coughing jerks for a few minutes. Then an interruption came.

"Nelda, Barrie, what are you doing here?" It was Reck's voice.
 Nelda stared at him in surprise.
 She thought he had gone to Hollywood.

Sneezing Protests

HE was in his car. Mr. Reckless had come, as had a number of others, to look upon the deserted battleground.

"I hoped to deliver a load off"—
 she sneezed and pointed to the broken crates and trampled lettuce.

"You hauled it yourself!" Reck
 was horrified.

"I had to. Jack's in the hospital!"
 She was caught by a sneezing,
 coughing, gasping spell that lasted several seconds. She walked a short distance away to hide her distress.

Reck followed her. "Nelda, why
 must you—"

"Let's not go into that again!"
 she ordered with spirit.

He took a fine linen handkerchief from his pocket and wiped
 her eyes.

"Seems to me that Langdon's always Johnny-on-the-spot," he growled.

"He merely wants to be helpful."

"That's what he says! Well, I'm going to be helpful, too. After you get that darn sheepskin, things
 are going to be different."

A new and more violent attack
 of sneezing prevented her from answering him. She snatched his handkerchief.

"Different? Understand?" he asked.

He, too, was overcome with a sneezing spasm. He grabbed his handkerchief away from her.
 "Come on, let me take you home,"
 he said when he recovered.

"No thanks, Reck. I've got to drive the truck to a garage."

TWENTY AND TEN YEARS AGO

Jan. 9, 1918—City's fire loss
 during 1917 was $51,210 according to annual report of Fire Chief
 R. A. Chipp.

William S. Blingue was elected president of fire board.

Frederick A. Hiltobrant of Saucerties and Miss Esther M.
 Barth of this city married here.

He started to protest, and sneezed. He ended with a futile gesture.

She noticed that Mr. Reckless was studying her closely. Suddenly, he came toward her with a swinging stride.

"Earl," he said in a clear, authoritative voice, "you're lucky to have a girl who lives in the clean,
 strong way Nelda does."

Reck said nothing.

"I don't believe you and your mother half appreciate her," Mr.
 Reckless went on.

"Of course I do," Reck said
 moodily.

Nelda grew a little uncomfortable, for she divined that Mr. Reckless' first impression, based on his wife's reactions, was different from the one he now formed for himself.

"I'm glad that you're going to be my daughter," he said heartily.
 "Thank you, Mr. Reckless." She smiled at him through her tears.

They left her then. Not until they were driving away did she realize that all this time Bill had stood alone beside her truck. She hadn't thought to introduce him
 to Mr. Reckless. He seemed totally unconcerned about the omission,
 however, and talked as casually
 as he had when they started out.
 She felt somehow that an apology
 on her part would be superfluous.

They Shoot Us!

THEY took the battered truck to
 a garage and there hired a man
 to take them home.

When they were nearing the rancho she said suddenly, "I have an idea, Bill!"

"Out with it."

"We might have a fleet of trucks.
 Instead of each one going by itself
 as mine and yours have done they could all start at once. You, and Ray and Tony Moresi—all of us
 could join in."

"Overwhelm 'em with numbers,
 eh?"

"Exactly."

"Not a bad idea. Say!" He turned his head and regarded her quizzically.
 "You're going to be a genuine farmer if you're not careful."

They were now at the spot
 where Bill had parked his truck.
 They got out, dismissed the garage
 man, and watched him as he drove away.

"I don't know how to begin to thank you for going with me, Bill," Nelda said, lifting her dark eyes
 earnestly to his face.

"Don't. I was a washout in that fight."

"I suppose," she jeered, "you wanted to fight that mob single-handed."

He grinned companionably.

"I don't think there'll be any more trouble today." He got into his truck and drove away.

Nelda saw José coming toward her at a little jog trot. The cutters were all gone. They'd finished their work for that day, she concluded.

"They shoot us!" he cried excitedly.

"Shoot!" she gasped.

"Uncle Sam is along then."

"Strikers stood on the highway and shot rocks from slingshots at the cutters," he exclaimed. "Scared
 'em half to death."

"They didn't finish cutting?"
 Nelda asked in alarm.

José shook his head in the negative.

"You should have seen 'em scramble!" Uncle Sam continued.
 "Only a few stayed on the field."

"Then there's very little more lettuce to be hauled today?" she asked the foreman.

"No more. Maybe I can get some men to finish tomorrow," he said,
 but there wasn't much assurance
 in his voice.

"I'll try to get protection for
 you," she told him.

"Thank you," he bowed low.
 "Thank you too much."

That night Bill brought Ray Powell and Tony Moresi to the rancho for a conference.

Bill, looking tired and worn, announced, "I was told that the highway patrolmen will escort our trucks to the sheds if we travel in a fleet."

It was unanimously decided that they would haul their crops in that manner thereafter.

"I heard something like this afternoon," Bill said slowly, "that's rather disturbing."

The others looked at him in a state of apprehension for what might happen next in this labor
 war.

"They're trying to organize the field workers and get them to strike, too."

"Great Scott!" exclaimed Ray.
 "We're paying them 50 cents an hour now!"

"They're being urged to ask for 60," Bill stated.

"That'll make it all just dandy," Nelda said with a twisted smile.

"What we do if we no get our lettuce cut?" Tony asked.

"Cut what we can ourselves,"
 Ray answered dolefully.

"After what I went through today I ought to be able to do that," Nelda declared, but did not have the faintest idea she would have to do it.

Tomorrow, the strike descends on
 the ranch.

HALLELUJAH!

ACCORD

Accord, Jan. 8.—The 4-S of the Reformed Church will serve a pancake supper in the church basement on Tuesday evening, serving
 to begin at 5:30 o'clock. The fol-

HIGHLAND NEWS

Burton Heads Hose Company

Highland, Jan. 10.—Richard V. Burton was re-elected president of the Highland Hose Company for his 24th term at the regular meeting Tuesday evening. It was an election by acclamation with the secretary instructed to cast the elective ballot. During the election Allan Hasbrouck acted as chairman with Ennis Wood and Edward Ackley as tellers.

William H. Maynard was elected chief for his 16th year. Elmer Smith, captain, and also to keep a record of the calls answered by the company during the year; Alton Sheeley, first lieutenant; Arthur Lyons, second lieutenant. Ralph Lyons, vice president for his 22nd term; Harry Cotant, secretary; Harold DuBois, financial secretary; U. Parker Decker, treasurer; the Rev. Devello S. Haynes, chaplain; Clow Kniffin, delegate to the Hudson Valley Firemen's Association in Hudson, with Walter Stekler as alternate. Edward Ackley volunteered to devote time to delve through past records of the Hose company, toward compiling a history of the company.

Elmer Smith reported that 19 fires had occurred in the district during the past year; 13 others out of the district, although in the town of Lloyd, there was one call from Milton and one from Esopus, also one false alarm. The fire loss was reported almost nothing for the year. Mr. Burton in accepting the office reminisced a bit and recalled the fire house on the Milton road, and the time the upper floor had to be propped up so that a supper might be held in the building. The company went from there to rooms over the newly built Smith's garage. It was 1922 when the company moved into their present brick home on Main street, and shortly after the LaFrance pumper was purchased. Mr. Burton succeeded the late Dr. B. A. Reynolds as president. Following the meeting, a catered oyster supper with rolls, pickles and coffee was served. Parker Decker, who presented a treasurer's report, which showed a balance is also a trustee to serve three years.

25th Anniversary.
Highland, Jan. 10.—Mr. and Mrs. Edmond G. Finley quietly celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary at their home on Vineyard avenue on New Year's Day. Mrs. Finley was formerly Miss Ethyl M. Coutant, daughter of Homer and the late Mrs. Coutant. The marriage took place in Marlborough and the ceremony was performed by the late Rev. Robert Knapp. They have one daughter, Miss Janet Finley, who is a graduate of Highland High School and is attending the Wood-Purinton School in Poughkeepsie.

The pupils on the third five-week honor roll in the high school are: Lloyd Bennett, Veto Brunell, Lena Constantino, Doris Coutant, Joseph Curdella, Jennie D'Agostino, Nancy Dean, Ernest Faust, Mildred Feldt, Mildred Gruener, William Gruener, Matilda Gullotti, Ruth Haynes, Barbara Lent, Doraine Mackey, Marjorie Mellor, June Pauli, Catherine Richards, Judith Sandleben, Frances Simpson, August Strongman, Harriet Traver, Harold Vandervoort.

Pie and cake are all right in their way, but American might be built on hot dog.

MODENA

Modena, Jan. 10.—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Modena Methodist Church conducted its regular meeting Thursday, January 6, when an all day meeting was in progress. At Mrs. William Doolittle's. Material was sewn for rugs and articles commenced for fancy-work booth at the fair. A pot-luck lunch was served at noon. During the afternoon members of the society attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Claudia Paltridge Barclay, at the Modena Methodist Church, returning to the meeting later. During the business session Mrs. Arnold, of Modena, was welcomed as a new member of the society, and announcement made that the February meeting of the society will be conducted at Mrs. Ransel J. Wager's home, Thursday afternoon, February 3. Mrs. Wold will entertain the members in March. Owing to the absence of the chairman of January-February committee, Mrs. Emory Conklin, no activities were planned, socially. Those in attendance at Thursday's meeting were Mrs. Wold and daughter, Dorothy, of Ardenia; Mrs. Arnold, Mrs. Ransel Wager; Mrs. William Decker, Mrs. Hallock Harris, Mrs. Floyd Wells; Mrs. Lillian Rhodes, the Rev. and Mrs. Philip Solbjor, Mrs. Myron Shultz, Mrs. George Hartshorn, Mrs. Anna Miller and the hostess, Mrs. Doolittle. The word for the February meeting will be "Loyal."

The January meeting of the Modena Fire Department, was in session at the firehouse, Thursday evening, when Chief Lester A. Wager conducted the meeting in the absence of the president, Eldred A. Smith, and the vice president, Myron L. Shultz. Plans were made for a pinocle tournament between the firemen and the Modena Gun Club members, to commence Thursday evening, January 13, and continue for six evenings, dates to be decided at the conclusion of the evenings game. Ransel Wager will be captain of the sportsmen's team, while Eldred Smith will captain the fire-fighters. The tournament will culminate with a supper served to the winning team.

Miss Edith Paltridge, student nurse at the Hudson River State Hospital in Poughkeepsie, is acting supervisor at the hospital during the month of January. Miss Paltridge, graduated from New York State Normal School, class of '36, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Paltridge of this village.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Seymour of Tilton were visitors in town last week.

DO COW-PUNCHERS APPRECIATE CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCO'S?

TED YOCUM was born and raised in the cattle country. Speaking from personal observation, Ted says: "Cow-punchers are great Camel smokers. Seems like if a man smokes Camels once—he sticks to 'em. Come round-up time—I'm in the saddle for hours, and not sparin' myself. A Camel sure hits the spot then. I get a mighty pleasant 'lift.'"

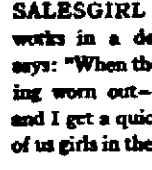

Yes, and to America at large, Camel's costlier tobaccos have such a special appeal that they are the largest-selling cigarette in this country!

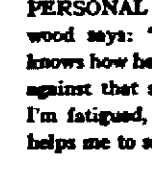

AUTO MECHANIC Al Patterson says: "In the garage business you have to catch your meals on the run. I find that Camels seem to smooth the way for good digestion. The Mrs. smokes Camels too."

CHIEF SIGNALMAN John Geraghty: "You don't have to be a railroad man to know that speed and safety—our watchwords—call for healthy nerves. I smoke plenty. Camels don't jangle my nerves."

SALESGIRL Elsie Schumacher works in a department store. She says: "When the rush gets me to feeling worn out—it's me for a Camel, and I get a quick 'lift.' Practically all of us girls in the store prefer Camels."

PERSONAL SHOPPER Irene Sherwood says: "I guess every woman knows how hectic shopping is. I'm up against that six days a week. When I'm fatigued, I light up a Camel. It helps me to snap back."

PHARMACIST J. E. Bayus says: "I get in a lot of Camel smoking. And when I say I never tire of Camel's taste—it's experience talking."

CHAMPION TYPIST Romeo Paulsen: "I enjoy Camels from one end of the day to the other. And Camels are so mild, they don't irritate my throat."

Holy Name Men Attend Mass

Carnevali, George Fisher and Robert Huterbach.

Also on the program of musical entertainment was the Holy Name choir in rendition of popular numbers with Martin Kelly as soloist, and Theodore Ribicoff as accompanist. The choir consists of Martin Kelly, John Hyland, Edmund Whelan, John Fisher, Thomas Quinn, Thomas Murphy, George Teller, John Dunn, John Carter, Joseph Quinn and John E. Ward.

William Houghtaling was guest soloist, singing "There's a Good Man in the Sky," and "Why Did You Make Me Care?"

Father Kennedy led in group singing previous to the program of speeches.

President Gustav Kogel was first to address the gathering, congratulating the men on their attendance at Communion, and urging continued activity in Holy Name matters for the ensuing year, after commenting on the busy program carried on during the past 12 months.

Reading the names of members who died during the year, President Kogel asked that they be remembered in prayer. They are: Thomas Diamond, James Gorman, Edward Noble, James Elgo, James Monaghan, John Flynn, David Leach, Edmund Britt, Michael McGowan and Coleman McDonough.

Toastmaster Murphy presented Monsignor Stanley as the first speaker and his brief remarks dealt with religion and the church as the greatest bulwark against the crumbling of government and culture. His urge was that the Holy Name men be practical in their faith and live up to the ideals of Catholicism.

In introducing Dr. Palmer, the chief speaker, Toastmaster Murphy presented him as one of the most important men in the state's department for prevention of crime, lauding his record, and expressing his contention that religion must be one of the leading factors in helping him with his job.

Dr. Palmer, after complimenting the Holy Name men on their public manifestation of faith, took up his topic dealing with "Prevention of Crime." Most people think of men in jail as different from other people," said the speaker, who cited experiences of 17 years in correction work as a preface to what he had to say concerning the prevention of crime, and the state's experiment with new prison systems.

As an argument against the old systems, Dr. Palmer said, they spent too much time teaching a man how to live in prison, burdening him with rules and regulations, even to telling him when to start and when to stop eating, that brought on a frustrated existence, one that stifles his powers to think for himself after spending 10 or 15 years in jail, and handicapped him in rehabilitating himself in society.

Business Denies Strike Against The Government

Washington, Jan. 10 (AP)—Two business spokesmen denied before a Senate investigating committee today that industry was striking or threatening to strike against administration policies. Both called for tax revision to restore investment confidence.

They were Lamont duPont, the manufacturer, and Dr. Claudius T. Murchinson, president of the cotton-textile institute.

Murchinson told the committee his industry had "opposed with every power at its command the downward trend of business and resorted to production curtailment only with the utmost reluctance."

Murchinson added it could not be charged that the industry "has engaged in any thought, or action, which might be interpreted as indifference to its social and economic responsibility, or hostility to the general national interest, or what has been referred to as a strike against the administration."

Earlier, duPont had denied a labor contention that his plan for industry to spend $25,000,000 if government would cooperate with industry was a threat against administration policies.

Citing his testimony that the company planned to spend $35,000,000 in expansion during the coming year, duPont said "I think we are playing ball."

duPont told the committee, however, that E. I. duPont de Nemours and Company was forecasting a 23 per cent drop in sales during the next six months as compared with the first half of 1937.

Hunting Mishaps Hearings Today

This afternoon at the offices of the State Conservation Department, 662 Broadway, John Halpin, secretary to Commissioner Lithgow Osborne, and Henry A. Teal, superintendent of law enforcement, conducted hearings for alleged violations of Section No. 161 of the Conservation Law, covering the killing or wounding of another person while hunting.

Those called were Paul Borman, Dominick Roseto, John Witowski and Harold Berry. The cases of Allen Cherry and Joseph Schaffner, Sr., were deferred.

Secretary Halpin announced that the Witowski case was closed and defendant did not appear.

The case of Paul Borman covered the alleged shooting of Harold Smith in the town of Wallkill on October 18. Testimony was taken and decision was reserved. Borman was instructed not to get his license until informed of the decision of the department.

In the case of Dominick Roseto, of Corona, L. I., charged with the shooting of Harold Van Ethen of Saugerties, Roseto did not appear and was given the opportunity to state his testimony before Secretary Halpin Tuesday in New York city.

The accident occurred on the Burton Scott farm, at Gilboa, Schoharie county, on Sunday, October 24. Harold Van Ethen and his father, Clarence, were hunting with Roseto. Mr. Van Ethen's nephew, a member of the party, started a rabbit. Roseto, according to the statements given, was about 30 or 35 yards away at the time in a direct line with Harold Van Ethen. He shot at the rabbit and the shot struck the boy.

Van Ethen was called and the boy was taken to the Kingston hospital, where he died 11 days later. Roseto gave the doctor $10 and sent the father $25 to help pay the expenses, the father said. Roseto did not appear here, because his attorney said in a letter to Secretary Halpin he could not afford the car fare to Kingston. It was said he was a relief worker receiving $34 per month, which Mr. Halpin pointed out, "is not much money in New York city."

The case of Joseph Schaffner, Sr., grew out of an accident on October 20 in Crum's Woods. The injured person was Joseph Schaffner, Jr., and was hit when his father mistook the squirrel against a tree for a gray squirrel.

The John Witowski case occurred on October 31 at Greenview, Port Jervis RFD 2. In this accident Stephen Stone was shot and died five hours later in a hospital. The accident took place on the Peter Gruss farm.

Harold Berry appeared to testify on the alleged shooting of Edward O'Brien, of Warwick, which accident is said to have occurred on Mt. Pleasant. O'Brien received 10 pellets in his left leg.

The Allen Cherry case was deferred. This was the accident in which Thomas Philcox lost his life in the town of Goshen, because of a ruptured liver. The tragedy occurred on October 16. The shot, allegedly fired by Allen Cherry, was from a .22 rifle.

Thomson Leads Los Angeles Open

Los Angeles, Jan. 10 (AP)—Jimmy Thomson was still in front today as the 15th annual Los Angeles open golf tournament swung into the final round over par-shattered Wilson memorial course.

Shooting for the $2,100 first prize of a $7,500 purse, Thomson, the big gun from Shawnee-on-the-Belt, held a lead of but three strokes over three dangerous rivals.

Wiczorak and five friends established the identity of the skeleton through bits of clothing. Medical Examiner Rocco N. De Dominicis expressed the belief the gymnasium miner had committed suicide by sticking a piece of dynamite in his mouth and lighting it.

700 Teachers to Albany
New York, Jan. 10 (AP)—Special trains were arranged to take 700 New York city union school teachers to Albany today to present the legislature with bills for smaller classes and more school buildings. Charles J. Hendley, president of Local 5 of the Teachers Union, said the bills would limit classes to a maximum of 30 children and would provide a building bond issue of $20,000,000. "At present," said Hendley, "over 200,000 children in the city elementary schools are in classes with registers of 40 and more."

Mulloy, Toley Win at Tennis

Coral Gables, Fla., Jan. 10 (AP)—Gardner Mulloy and George Toley of the University of Miami upset Blizy Grant of Atlanta and Wilmer Hines of Hollywood, Calif., in the doubles final of the Miami Billmore tennis tournament today.

Match was hard fought to the score of 8-6, 6-3, 3-6, 5-7, 9-7. In the singles final yesterday Blizy served notice he was out for a Davis cup berth again by defeating Bobby Riggs of Chicago, ranked second nationally.

Morgenweck Has Signed Posnack

Talking to a Freeman sports reporter this morning, Manager Frank Morgenweck of the Kingston Colonials had two important things to say.

"First," said the Old Maestro, "I want to spike that rumor about Tiny Hearn having been released. He is still with the club and indications are he will stay for the season. I haven't had any trouble with Tiny and probably won't."

"Second, I've signed Max Posnack and he'll be in Kingston in the New York Jewel game, Wednesday night."

In addition to the former Bronx Yankee in the Colonial lineup is expected to strengthen the local club a lot.

Local Death Record

At St. Peter's Church Tuesday morning a memorial Mass will be offered up for the late Joseph Schuller.

William Lindhorst, a former resident of this city, died last evening in the Lincoln Hospital in New York city after a short illness. He was the son of the late Christian and Mary Schmidt Lindhorst and leaves several nieces and nephews residing in this city. The remains will be brought to Kingston for burial in the family plot in Montrose cemetery, the time to be announced later.

Mrs. Margaret Wolven, wife of the late Jacob Wolven, died suddenly at her home in West Hurley on Saturday. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Clifford Lippincott of Dumont, N. J., and Mrs. Evelyn Wolven of West Hurley; one granddaughter, Miss Edna A. Wolven, of West Hurley, and one sister, Mrs. Anna Hinkley, of Kingston. Funeral services will be held at the funeral home of V. A. Lasher in Woodstock on Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. Burial in Kaibab cemetery, town of Saugerties.

The funeral of William McLean, Jr., who died as the result of a coasting accident, Wednesday, was held from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William McLean, Sr., Saturday at 2 p. m. Services conducted by the Rev. Russell Ganzle, pastor of Redeemer Lutheran Church, were largely attended. Many called at the home while the body lay in state, among them his little playing mate, Eight of his boy friends acted as pallbearers, and there was an escort from his class in Redeemer Sunday School. Burial was in Whitwick cemetery. Floral pieces were many and beautiful.

Mrs. Esther Eckert, wife of John Eckert, of Brodhead, died at her home Sunday, aged 51 years. Besides her husband she is survived by her father, Hiram Silkworth, of Kyserville; three brothers, Ezra Silkworth of Olive Bridge; George Silkworth of Poughkeepsie and Frank Silkworth of Stone Ridge; three sisters, Mrs. Edward Cahill of Kyserville; Mrs. Dora Schoonmaker of West Park and Mrs. Friend Bush of High Falls. Her funeral will be held from her late home Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. Interment will be in Krumville cemetery. The Rev. Mr. Hewitt of Olive Bridge will officiate.

The funeral of Thomas M. Clark, who died at his home, 42 E. St. James street, Wednesday evening, was held from his late home Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and at St. Joseph's Church at 9:30 where a solemn Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. Francis X. Delaney, assisted by the Rev. Edmund Burke as deacon and the Rev. John Simmons as sub-deacon. The Rev. Martin P. O'Garra was seated in the chancel. The children's choir sang the responses and at the conclusion of the Mass and as the body was borne from the church sang "The Miserere." There were many floral tributes and Mass cards sent to the home. The bearers were Bernard McBride, William Powers, Michael Larkin, Daniel Cahill, John Mahoney and Daniel O'Marra. Interment took place in St. Mary's cemetery.

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Colleen Moore is the new queen of the screen. Tom Mix is king. Their royal retinue is composed of Fred Thomson, Harold Lloyd, Fred Gibson, Douglas Fairbanks, Thomas Meighan and Reginald Denny.

For these stars, you'll stand in line at theaters, and dig deep in your pockets for change, to laugh and weep at their performances. They're the box-office champions of—wait a minute!—1928.

Eleven years ago... Shirley Temple, the movie queen of 1937—by the Motion Picture Herald—winner poll—was an unknown, even to her parents. Clark Gable was a minor name on theater programs—sometimes... Robert Taylor and Bing Crosby were schoolish... William Powell was a slimy heavy in the silents... Jane Withers wasn't yet en route to her Atlanta home... Fred Astaire had never heard of Ginger Rogers, and vice versa... Sonja Henie was a typographical error.

Complete Turnover
None of the first ten of 1928 is anywhere near the charmed circle today. Colleen Moore has a doll house, Tom Mix a circus. Fred Thomson and Thomas Meighan are dead. Harold Lloyd (who's making a picture now) has appeared too infrequently to register heavily. Hoot Gibson ranks 16th among western stars. Norma Talmadge is Mrs. George Jessel, retired from the screen. Mary and Doug are inactive. Reginald Denny is a featured player, unmentioned in the poll results but very active in his model airplane business.

The turnover in the "15 honor stars" group has been almost as complete. Wallace Berry, 17th ranking draw in 1928, is 15th now—after a period among the first 10. Milton Sills, Lon Chaney and the dog star Rin-Tin-Tin of the 1928 group are dead. Richard Dix, still star-billed, is below the first 60 in 1937. Buck Jones is third among the cowboy stars. Norma Shearer—whose only release last year was "Bonnie and Clyde"—dropped to the division below her 1928 rating, after several years among the first 10.

Jackie Coogan Grew Up

Constance Talmadge has retired. Jack Holt is below the first 60 in such good company as Greta Garbo, Eddie Cantor, Grace Moore—and Marion Davies, rumored retiring, is in the next division. Jackie Coogan—well, he's grown now.

Of 1928's 60 top players, only three are included in this year's top 60—Norma Shearer, Wallace Berry, Ronald Colman. Eleven others are dead, 11 more still starred or featured prominently—but nevertheless are fallen below their former ratings.

And 11 years from now...?

Seal Sale Group In Sight of Budget

Closing within the next week with high hopes for financial success in the Christmas Seal sale, the Ulster County Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health is looking forward to the next few days as one of the most critical periods of the campaign. Contributions are expected from many persons who have overlooked payment of the seals during the holiday rush, and it is hoped that the returns within the next few days will bring the association well in sight of its budget needs for a full program in 1938.

EDIZIONE 1971

Fred R. Finley Never Missed School in 28 Years

Fred R. Finley of German, a clerk employed by the Supply Company on the 10th, has just rounded out a 28th year of Sunday School attendance that is hard to equal. He has completed his 28th consecutive year of perfect attendance at Sunday school of the Roundout Presbyterian Church.

Monday was Recognition Day in Presbyterian Sunday school. Fred L. Van Deusen, who resigned last year as superintendent of Sunday School, after serving twenty years or more, presented Mr. Finley with a book. It was Mr. Van Deusen's annual book to present scholars who had not missed a Sunday during the year with a book.

Sunday there was one other member of the school who had a perfect attendance and that was George Wolff, a member of Mr. Finley's class in the school. He was also presented with a book.

Those who received certificates for perfect attendance were: Sunday school, Mr. Van Deusen, Mr. Finley, Mr. Armstrong, Jr., Miss Van Alen, Miss Beatty, Miss J. W. Scott; those who were three Sundays were Miss Banks, and those missing one Sunday were Miss Anna Mc Mahan, James McLennahan and Alice Wells.

STUDENT FLIER KILLED IN CRASH

The body of Eugene Garbarino, 25-year-old student flier from Malden, Mass., was pinned in the wreckage of this plane shortly after crashing at East Boston airport. The craft dived 150 feet to the ground a few minutes after the take-off.

All in Readiness For Annual Shriner Ball on Tuesday

The Shriners have completed their plans for their big gala entertainment and ball to be held Tuesday evening in the municipal auditorium for the benefit of the Industrial Home.

Doors will open promptly at 7 o'clock in order to accommodate the large attendance expected and will be in charge of William McCullough and Charles Shultis, assisted by W. Norman Conner and Michael Liebig. The box office will also be opened at 7 o'clock in charge of W. Frank Davis.

Promptly at 8 J. Mollott's orchestra will play a delightful concert which Mr. Mollott has been preparing for the past two weeks. Mollott's orchestra will also accompany the floor show which will follow the concert, with the exception of Cheats and Swings number which will have their own orchestra.

Most of the musicians in Mollott's orchestra are the ones who played with him at the Broadway Theatre when vaudeville was given there so that every man is experienced in this type of work so there will be no question but what his music will be the very best.

The Industrial Home, who will also have charge of the ladies' cloak room on the second floor. The men's check room on the first floor will be in charge of Fred Lang.

The big dance hall is being transformed into a "Garden of Allah" under the direction of Frank L. Brown.

The entertainment committee consisting of M. H. Herzog, Philip Elting, William H. Van Eten, Arthur A. Davis, Dr. A. L. Hill, Samuel S. Brown and Dr. Harry K. LeFever has arranged a program of outstanding merit and one which the Shriners feel will make a tremendous hit.

In charge of the floor Tuesday night will be John F. Carnright, Edward M. Stanbrough, Fred M. Dressel, Arthur J. Burns, William Doyle, Jr., Fred Van Voorhis, Henry C. Connelly, C. S. Treadwell, S. B. Schwarzwalder, Joseph M. Fowler, Dr. R. P. Baylor, A. H. Chambers, Howard R. St. John, Henry Klein, Dr. Charles D. Carter, William H. Nides, Arthur G. Carr, Everett Rousa, Harry M. Barnhael, Harold V. Clayton and M. E. Bowley, who will see that everyone is properly seated.

The publicity has been in charge of Herbert E. Thomas, Harry D. B. Frey, Ira V. D. Thomas and Joseph Frankel.

An indication point to one of the most successful affairs the Shriners have ever held.

Free Diphtheria Clinic on Tuesday

Dr. L. E. Sanford, health officer, has arranged to hold another in the series of free weekly diphtheria clinics at the city hall on Tuesday afternoon between the hours of 3 and 4 o'clock when parents who desire to have their children immunized may bring them to the clinic. So successful was this series of clinics last year that Dr. Sanford plans to hold them again this year. Children will also be vaccinated if desired.

After the floor show Mr. Mollott's orchestra will be opposed by Paul Zucca and his swing band, assuring patrons of continuous dancing until an early hour in the morning. Among the numbers now being heard played over the radio by the leading bands.

The younger generation, however, will not be overlooked as each orchestra has a repertoire of all the numbers now being heard played over the radio by the leading bands.

Both orchestra leaders assure the Shriners that they will do their utmost to give the Kingston dancing public the opportunity of enjoying an evening with real dance swing music.

Alfred Shea of New York city, who is well-known in Kingston, will act as master of ceremonies, thus assuring a smooth and fast moving program.

Cigars and cigarettes will be on sale at booth under balcony in charge of Dr. Samuel Stern.

Lemonade and refreshments will be on sale during the evening in the large dining room by the ladies of the board of managers of the Industrial Home.

Nation's News In Brief

Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.), criticizing the Interstate Commerce Commission's finance division for approving RFC loans to certain railroads, urged today that the commission be reorganized.

Wheeler, chairman of a senate committee investigating rail finances, said the finance division recently approved a $6,000,000 loan by the R. F. C. to the Erie Railroad "when the facts showed beyond question that the Erie needed reorganization."

Dog Gave Alarm, Dies

Norwell, Mass., Jan. 10 (AP)—Constant barking of a pet dog roused George Smith and his wife both 70, early today but they did not investigate until the barks suddenly ceased.

Then Smith discovered the house afire and the heroic pet burned to death.

The aged couple escaped. Their home was destroyed.

Burns to Death

Watertown, Conn., Jan. 10 (AP)—Mrs. John H. Cross of Watertown, Md., wife of a lieutenant at the submarine base in New London, was burned to death and her husband injured critically today in an automobile accident near here.

Corner Edward G. McKay of Norwalk said the accident occurred after the left rear tire of the Cross sedan blew out on the Boston Post road near Golden spur.

11 Hours, One Minute

Langley Field, Va., Jan. 10 (AP)—To demonstrate the "ease" with which Uncle Sam's air force can shift its strength from one coast to the other in time of emergency, Lieut. Col. Robert Olds yesterday brought a 16-ton flying fortress from California to Virginia in 11 hours and one minute.

The commander of the U. S. Second Bombardment Group raced eastward at over 11,000 feet behind the big plane's four motors to establish what headquarters at the air base here said was a transcontinental record for military aircraft.

Sportsmen Will Hold Meeting

New Hymnals Dedicated Sunday At Clinton Avenue

A congregation of 350 people participated in the dedication of the new Methodist hymnal which was introduced into Clinton Avenue Methodist Church on Sunday morning.

The Rev. Howard Dixon McGrath, with the assistance of the choir and congregation, dedicated the new hymnals. Included in dedication minutes were those of the choir and congregation, and all who have served this church.

The ritual procedure was very effective, the minister reading a sentence of dedication, the people responding and the choir singing a verse of an appropriate hymn in connection with each service.

A touching part of the service, came when the minister acknowledged with deep feeling, the gift of a copy of the new hymnal, bound in morocco and printed on India paper, which has been presented to him by the choir.

On Sunday night a most wonderful "hymn festival" revealing many of the types of hymns and tunes found in the new hymnal, was conducted under the direction of Mrs. Raymond Bignall.

Thus far 275 hymnals have been given, most of them as memorials, and it is expected that the number will reach 300, thus adequately equipping the church for congregational singing.

Sears Manager Here Transferred To Chicago, Ill.

Leonard H. Beers, manager of the local Sears Roebuck store since its opening here on June 20, 1935, has received notice of his transfer to Chicago. The change is a promotion, Mr. Beers becoming a field assistant, working out of the Chicago office of the company. He will work on a special assignment, which will consist in making a survey of the Sears Roebuck stores in 12 states, including a survey of the various communities, conditions, etc. The work will probably occupy him for the better part of a year, if not longer. He will leave for Chicago about February 1.

For the present, at least, his family, consisting of his wife and daughter, will make their home in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., their old home. They expect to move from their Kingston residence, 232 North Manor avenue, sometime during the week of January 23.

Mr. Beers said this morning that he was sorry to leave Kingston, although appreciating the chance given him for advancement. He said that he had found Kingston one of the finest towns he had ever lived in, with the people friendly and cooperative.

For his own part, Mr. Beers has shown a friendly and helpful attitude during his stay here and has taken an active part in the affairs of the Kingston Business Men's Association, as well as in other local activities and he and his family have made many friends who will learn with regret that they are to leave.

Mr. Beers' successor as manager of the Kingston store has not yet been named.

Miss Barbara Shipman attended her mother and William P. Mosser was best man for his brother. A dinner was served after the ceremony to members of the immediate families. Mr. and Mrs. Mosser will be at home in their new home in Allentown, Pa., after February 1.

Testimonial for Henry R. Bright

Upon Saturday evening at Lee Lila at Mount Marion a testimonial dinner was tendered Henry R. Bright in tribute to his worldly success since arriving in Ulster county. For the past year Mr. Bright has been in charge of the Kingston office of the Corporation Counsel of the City of New York. Upon January 1 of this year he was promoted to the position of counsel in charge of the division of water supply of the New York city corporation counsel's office. As such he will be in complete charge of all the condemnation of lands for an additional water supply embraced in the new Delaware project.

E. Frank Flanagan, Delaware section 5 commissioner and clothier of 231 Wall street, was chairman of the committee arranging the function. To him can be given the credit for arranging the culinary delights, including the pheasants served. He also secured Daniel Bittner to play the piano but he disclaims the responsibility of having secured Gerard Butz to serve as song leader.

Samuel E. Aronowitz, prominent Albany attorney and a member of the Delaware section 5 commission, said a few words despite the taboo against speeches. After demonstrating his ability as a raconteur, Mr. Aronowitz complimented Mr. Bright upon his realization of the urgent need of executive sessions of the commissioners and then in a more serious vein praised Mr. Bright for the spirit of fairness, impartiality and square dealing manifested by him while at the same time being a fighter for the rights of the city of New York. A set of traveling bags was then presented to the guest of honor, who responded with words of appreciation. Among those attending were Samuel E. Aronowitz, Gerard Butz, Vincent Connelly, John Egan, E. Frank Flanagan, Arthur Butler Graham, the chairman of the Delaware section 5 commission, Le Grand Haviland, George Moorabek, Frank Hyatt, George Kaufman, Chauncey Lane, Lamar Leonard, Tutbill McDowell, Thomas Plunket, Allen Potter, Arthur Rice, Alfred Roehrs, Henry Rusk, James Shiels and Clarence Yoss.
